1. Progress:

We have a version of the app that can run inside flask, UI is being worked on & is nearing completion, next steps include integrating the back end estella created & using that to optimize everything

2. Risks:

The only risk I see is a mistake during this phase compromising deployment later on

3. Discussion items:

Are we expected to use images? How does code review work?

4. Suggested Gantt change:

We will likely need a bit less time to deploy & a bit more to test - but not a significant change considering reading week
